O. A. Lee, of Ashley, O., is visiting his niece, Mrs. D. F. Randolph, on Second avenue.

J. H. Gwinner and his wife, who are the agents of the Haggstrom fire escape, made a descent from the fifth story of the Clarendon, and also from the Seaside Inn yesterday. The descent was very successful. This morning a descent was made from the Hotel Ormond. The Clarendon and Seaside will equip their houses with this device, which has given perfect satisfaction wherever used.

Cannot that boat grave yard be moved from the west end of middle bridge? Take the old hulks out of sight. They are a blemish to our fair city.

Let this sink into your mind if you are one of those I-don't-have-to-advertise sloths of commerce. Inevitably and in any business the man who does not keep his establishment before the public will be forgotten, and, as long as there are men who advertise constantly and loudly, nobody will charge his mind with remembering those who do not advertise. Gladstone said that "Nothing except the mint can make money without advertising." The famous statesman might have gone farther and said that advertising is the mint in which money is coined for wide awake business men.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Coleman, of Jacksonville, are at the Cleveland.

The Choral Society

The Daytona Choral Society took up the regular rehearsals last night at the First M. E. Church, with a number of new members, and with new music. All who attended the concert Dec. 20 and the one given last March can easily see the great improvement made in the singing, and thus proving that the Society is real benefit to all who have attended rehearsals. It seems strange that any music lover should neglect the opportunity to become a member of this Society, the cost is so insignificant, the associations so pleasant, and the advantages so real that no one should fail to become a member.

Riverside Property Sold.

What has been known as the Riverside property, Seabreeze, has been divided up and sold.

The Riverside Hotel, belonging to Mrs. Allen, was burned last spring and the owner, Mrs. Allen, sold the land and bought the property next on the south. The property was bought by Maro Ekey, Mrs. R. M. Mallory and Robert Holmes. Maro Ekey, of Nokomis, Ill., will shortly build on his lot, which is the northern one of the three. He has been a winter resident here for several years and proposes to keep away from the rigors of his western home.

Robert Holmes, of Lansing, Mich., is building a two-story dwelling, garage and boat house on his property under the supervision of R. M. Mallory. This will, when completed, give him a fine winter cottage.

Earnest Goodall has had a commodious garage built, and his house remodeled on his property at Goodall.

CITY COUNCIL SPECIAL MEETING

Attended by a Few of the Business Men and Visitors, but All Enthusiastic.

The special meeting of the City Fathers, last night was not largely represented by the citizens and business men, but those who were there were enthusiastic for the better roads.

J. A. Hendricks addressed the meeting and spoke of the necessity of good roads being built if the town is to hold the patronage of the winter visitors who come here. He stated that Mr. Anderson, of Anderson & Price, Ormond, proposed starting teams at once repairing the road between here and Ormond and that this work would be paid for by the Ormond Hotel interest. Mr. Anderson having subscribed $250 from his private purse for the road south of here.

Capt. Parkinson made an excellent speech, advocating the raising of sufficient funds to immediately complete the road to New Smyrna. He stated that an excellent road was now in use from the latter point to Oak Hill, and that the completion of this section of about 6 1/2 miles would give the citizens a road extending 32 miles parallel with the beautiful Halifax. He predicted that within five years the grand Jacksonville-Miami boulevard would be completed.

Mr. Hathaway, to whom is due the credit for having the auto races, called attention to the great growth of Daytona and stated that we had now reached the point where good water and sewerage systems were absolutely necessary, but that to hold the tourists now coming here new roads must be constructed. He offered to use his efforts to secure the aid of H. M. Flagler, who has lately become interested in autos, to aid us in the building of more roads.

Mr. Steck, President of the F. E. C. A. A., stated that the two piers on the beach would have an additional opening made for drivers. The present opening is 60 feet wide. This will be widened to 120 feet, sufficient room for any driver.

Mr. Adler carried around a paper soliciting subscribers and raised $235, making over $1700 in all raised.

The drivers and riders of all kinds of vehicles are vitally interested in the subject of good roads. Each and every one should subscribe according to their means. If every citizen would add even one dollar to the fund there would be more than enough to complete the proposed work.

J. A. Hendricks, Leon Despland, E. T. Conrad, J. F. O'Boyle, J. W. Wilkinson, Fred Conrad, J. G. Brown and Marshal Zuber were appointed a committee to solicit. Subscribers or contributors may leave any affidavits at the places of business of the members of this committee.

O. E. Evans, of Chattanooga, Tenn., has built a five room addition to his house on Valley street, recently bought by him.

PORT ARTHUR SURRENDERS.

After Months of Gallant Defense Gen. Stoessel Yields to the Plucky Jap at Last.

A special dispatch from Tokio, which seems to bear the car marks of reliability, announces the fall of Port Arthur, which for months has been besieged by the Japanese and so gallantly defended by Gen. Stoessel and his brave soldiers.

The Mikado has telegraphed Gen. Nogi, extolling the conduct of the Russian commander, and directing that he be accorded full military honors. The garrison are generously permitted to march out with honors.

The surrender was made at 9:00 o'clock Sunday night, and was preceded by a letter from Stoessel to Nogi, who at once cabled the navy department at Tokio.

The immediate cause of the surrender was the fall of Sungshu fort, Saturday, and the destruction of Pantung mountain fort on Sunday, which laid bare the entire defenses of the fortress.

Russian papers do not talk about the surrender of the fortress, and the mass of Russian subjects are being kept in ignorance of the important event as long as possible.

Panhard Racer Coming.

It is practically certain that Wm. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., will not drive a Mercedes; heretofore his favorite, when he attacks his own mile record on the Daytona-Ormond beach this month.

He will drive a special Panhard racer now about completed. Just what the power is, as yet is a shop secret, though on good authority it is said that the motor will be of not less than 130 "nominal" horse power.

Mrs. A. M. Dorrance and Miss Helen Dorrance, Cleveland, W. B. Hanna, N. Y., are guests of the Despland.

SOME FINE AUTOMOBILE RUNS

A Partial List of the Many Good Roads Feasible for Runs Near the City: An Auto Paradise.

The automobilist sojourning in the city of Daytona has the choice of a variety of pleasant runs to select from for a days trip, each and every one of which offers a pleasing variety not likely to be met with elsewhere.

First, and best of all, is the trip over the "World's Auto Playground," which would include seeing the F. E. C. Automobile Club House, the famous Daytona-Ormond race course and Mosquito Inlet, a distance of 20 miles over streets, roads and beach, upon which the speed is limited only by the capacity of the car.

Next a trip by the beach to Ormond, where is located one of the magnificent F. E. C. hotels, largely added to and much improved since last season, and thence to Knox & Beed's orange grove, returning by the road on the west of the Halifax. This run is nearly always in sight either of the ocean or the Halifax and is lined by many of the most beautiful citrus groves in this section. This would give a run of 38 miles over excellent roads and the beach. The trip from here via Port Orange to New Smyrna, a distance of 32 miles, was lately covered by J. C. Pettepher with a party of friends in two 10-horse power Union machines in less than 3 hours. At New Smyrna the ruins of what are supposed to have been on old Spanish dunsion may be viewed. These were uncovered last year but there is no record known extant which gives a clue to their original use. The Spanish Mission, which was probably the oldest church in the United States, may be seen by driving 2 miles to the westward.

Last, but not least, trips may be taken to the Big Tree, the largest tree probably in the State, and the pineapple farm, where "pines" of the finest kind are grown.
